Dear Sachin Rathore

You have done a nice work in developing the unit and instrumental test. However, the documentation of these tests is blurry. You have not specified any details regarding the alpha test, beta test, black-box test, white-box test, etc. So, please categorize your test results according to the specifications explained to you. Moreover, I request you to please do a stress test and give me the correct info regarding the number of users and queries the app can handle per minute.

Regards,
Ashutosh Jha

Dear Ashutosh Jha

I have been working on the documentation of the tests and there are a few remaining tests to be documented. I will be sending you the final test report as soon as the tests are completed within a week.

Thank You
